1. Foreword

Chair of East Dunbartonshire Community Planning Partnership

We are delighted to present the first Community Justice Outcomes Improvement Plan (CJOIP) developed by a range of community justice partners on behalf of the East Dunbartonshire Community Planning Partnership. This one year plan for 2017-2018 sets out how we intend to continue to build on the firm base that we have established to help create safer and stronger communities here in East Dunbartonshire. What we learn from our improvement activity will inform our future plans and actions.

Community justice is defined by the Scottish Government as “the collection of agencies and services in Scotland that individually and in partnership work to manage offenders, prevent offending and reduce reoffending and the harm it causes - to promote social inclusion, citizenship and desistance”. The outcomes we have identified for Community justice will be supported by effective local planning and delivery of services by a range of partners in the public and third sector.

Improving communication, consultation and participation is the key to success of the new local model for community justice. East Dunbartonshire Community Planning Partners have a strong track record of consulting with communities about the issues that they face. We evidence that we listen and that we are committed to working alongside our communities in dealing with the impacts of crime.

We demonstrate that the actions we take are reflected in real improvements in communities and in the lives of those who live there. East Dunbartonshire Community Planning Partners (ED CPP) share a responsibility and commitment to creating safe and attractive communities in which people want to live, work and visit. We will ensure we capitalise on what we do well and that our local CJOIP delivers on the principles laid out in the National Strategy for Community Justice:

People must be held to account for their offences, in a way that recognises the impact on victims of crime and is mindful of risks to the public, while being proportionate and effective in preventing and reducing further offending

Re-integrating those who have committed offences into the community and helping them to realise their potential will create a safer and fairer society for all

Every intervention should maximise opportunities for preventing and reducing offending as early as possible, before problems escalate

Community justice outcomes cannot be improved by one stakeholder alone. We must work in partnership to address these complex issues

Informed communities who participate in community justice will lead to more effective services and policies with greater legitimacy

High quality, person-centred and collaborative services should be available to address the needs of those who have committed offences, their families, and victims of crime

This CJOIP is founded upon a clear understanding that antisocial behaviour often has to be addressed in the wider context of communities experiencing a variety of complex social and economic problems. This perspective is reflected in the priorities and actions set out in this plan and allows for a clear focus on meeting the needs of and empowering our local communities.

2. East Dunbartonshire Community Planning Partnership Vision for Community Justice

East Dunbartonshire Community Planning Partnership (ED CPP) recognises that improving outcomes and delivering better services requires the active input and collaboration of a wide range of partners. The strong partnership in place locally has focused on delivery and improvement across six key priority areas:

- Outcome 1 – Economic Development
- Outcome 2 – Employability
- Outcome 3 – Delivering for Children and Young People
- Outcome 4 – Community Safety (Safer, Stronger Together from April 2017)
- Outcomes 5 and 6 – Health and Social Care

Scrutiny of progress takes place through our Community Planning Partnership Board.

The Community Justice (Scotland) Act 2016 provides a welcome opportunity to build on our progress, strengthen our partnership working and community participation, and ensure a focus on equity and resilience across all communities in East Dunbartonshire.

Within the national context the local ambition states:

East Dunbartonshire is a safer, fairer and more inclusive place where we:-

- prevent and reduce further offending by addressing its underlying causes; and
- safely and effectively manage and support those who have committed offences to help them reintegrate into the community and realise their potential for the benefit of all citizens

Improving outcomes for community justice is linked across all the ED CPP outcome priority groups noted above.

The new responsibilities on ED community justice partners, which take effect from April 2017, provide an opportunity to reflect on our existing services, refocus our local planning arrangements and activity towards improving outcomes to best meet the needs of our citizens and communities.

This Community Justice Outcomes Improvement Plan (CJOIP) provides the high level framework for improving outcomes for the period 2017-2018. It details the local outcomes/priorities and the specific actions to deliver improvements. Our Local Outcomes Improvement Plan (LOIP) will be updated to reflect the new legal requirement for community justice planning and improvement.

Accompanying the Act is a National Strategy for Community Justice¹; Outcome, Performance and Improvement Framework¹; and, Guidance¹. The Care Inspectorate, *A guide to self-evaluation for community justice in Scotland*¹, provides an overarching framework for self-evaluation. These supporting documents will underpin our approach to community justice in East Dunbartonshire.

The National Strategy for Community Justice (2016) provides the following definition of community justice:

“the collection of individuals, agencies and services that work together to support, manage and supervise people who have committed offences, from the point of arrest, through prosecution, community disposal or custody and alternatives to these, until they are reintegrated into the community. Local communities and the third sector are a vital part of this process which aims to prevent and reduce further offending and the harm that it causes, to promote desistance, social inclusion, and citizenship”

This definition recognises the wide range of partners, stakeholders and services required to deliver improving outcomes in relation to community justice. The organisations named as statutory partners within the legislation are noted below, they have a legal duty to engage with improved planning and service delivery processes and to report annually on their progress towards delivering the East Dunbartonshire CJOIP:

- Local Authority
- Health Board
- Scottish Prison Service
- Skills Development Scotland
- Scottish Courts and Tribunal Service
- Integration Joint Board (Health and Social Care)
- Police Scotland
- Scottish Fire and Rescue Service
- Crown Office and Procurator Fiscal

In order to improve community justice outcomes, resulting in safer communities, working in partnership extends across and beyond the community justice statutory partners as shown below in this graphic taken from the National Strategy:

These named community justice partners already contribute significantly to improving outcomes towards safer communities. A summary of this activity can be found at Annex A.

Community justice is a strand of the Scottish Government's wider justice improvement programme which contributes towards national outcomes and is relevant to all ED CPP local outcome groups aimed at improving safety in our communities. The table below reflects the national outcomes which underpin this improvement framework:

Scottish Government National Outcomes

We experience low levels of crime	We experience low levels of fear, alarm and distress	We are at a low risk of unintentional harm	Our people and communities support and respect each other, exercising both their rights and responsibilities
We have high levels of confidence in justice institutions and processes	Our public services are fair and accessible	Our institutions and processes are effective and efficient	Our public services respect the rights and voices of users

The Scottish Government four pillars of public sector reform are also relevant to the community justice improvement activity, these are:

- Prevention - Reduce future demand by preventing problems arising or dealing with them early on. To promote a bias towards prevention, help people understand why this is the right thing to do, the choices it implies as well as the benefits it can bring.
- Performance – To demonstrate a sharp focus on continuous improvement of the national outcomes, applying reliable improvement methods to ensure that services are consistently well designed based on the best evidence and are delivered by the right people to the right people at the right time.
- People – To unlock the full creativity and potential of people at all levels of public service, empowering them to work together in innovative ways. We need to help create ways for people and communities to co-produce services around their skills and networks.
- Partnership – To develop local partnership and collaboration, bringing public, third and private sector partners together with communities to deliver shared outcomes that really matter to people

There are strong links between the intentions of the Community Justice (Scotland) Act 2016 and the Community Empowerment (Scotland) Act 2015. Both place a legal requirement on public bodies to improve community consultation and participation.

In this challenging new era, we have more to do with less. This requires new ways of working through partnerships with service providers and communities to ensure that our services are joined up and responsive to need.

It is important to note that this first improvement plan is building on the existing extensive range of activity and engagement already being delivered by partners and stakeholders within East Dunbartonshire. This activity contributes towards supporting, managing and supervising people who have committed offences, providing services to victims of crime and engaging with communities on the causes, prevalence and impact of crime.

3. Community Justice Outcomes

There are seven national outcomes defined in the National Strategy for Community Justice, reflecting the need to improve what and how we deliver as partners as well as impacting on the individual and communities. These outcomes are detailed below:

Structural Outcomes (Partners)	Person-Centric Outcomes (Citizens)
Improved Community Understanding and Participation	Life chances are improved through needs, including health, financial inclusion, housing and safety being addressed
Strategic Planning and Partnership Working	People develop positive relationships and more opportunities to participate and contribute through education, employment and leisure activities
Equal Access to Services	Individuals' resilience and capacity for change and self-management are enhanced
Effective Use of Evidence-Based Interventions

The structural outcomes above will be the main focus of our improvement programme during 2017-2018. Activity related to the person-centric outcomes during 2017-18 will focus on collating what we currently do across this diverse range of organisations to monitor progress of an individual. From 2018 onwards, we will work with Community Justice Scotland to enhance our learning and then develop a performance reporting framework.

ED CPP community justice partners' continuous improvement programme will bring together the wide range of key partners required to improve outcomes which focus on the following:

- Victims of crime and their families
- People with convictions and their families
- People who live in the community
- Community bodies
- Local businesses

The Community Justice (Scotland) Act 2016 also details the pathways within the criminal justice system where the main improvement activity must be focussed; these are noted below:

- At point of and following arrest
- Through prosecution/while on remand
- Disposal (community-based sentences)
- Disposal (custody)
- From custody to community reintegration

Whilst each of these pathways is managed by a number of the statutory partners, as noted in the diagram in Annex A, a much wider range of stakeholders must input to improve community justice outcomes.

Our initial improvement activities during 2017-18 are focussed on strengthening our strategic planning and communication foundations; these are the building blocks towards a new model for community justice in East Dunbartonshire. An annual improvement activity schedule will be developed, consulted on and implemented by ED CPP community justice partners. The CJOIP will be updated in line with ongoing national developments, these include:

- The extension of the presumption against short term sentences
- The reduction in the use of remand
- The implementation of changes to the Scottish Prison Service women's estate
- The expansion of electronic monitoring
- The review of Crown Office and Procurator Fiscal Services
- The Scottish Courts and Tribunal Service implementation of the Scottish Civil Courts Review

The potential impact of these national justice developments on local community justice strategic planning and delivery should not be underestimated. They are highly likely to increase demand on community-based resources, including workforce and finance.

ED CPP community justice partners will monitor, review and report on the impact, maintaining communications with Scottish Government through individual partner bodies, Scottish Government strategic groups and Community Justice Scotland.

With the support of Scottish Government funding, during 2016-2017 research and improvement activity scoping work was carried out. Involving strategic and operational leads from all named partner bodies and third sector interface leads, this focussed on the criminal justice pathways and the findings and progress from this transitions work have informed our improvement activity from April 2017 – March 2018. A summary of the learning points are included within Annex C of this Plan.

This managed approach will ensure that we set upon our performance improvement activity in a measured and achievable way. Each year we will publish our ED CPP community justice progress report alongside our LOIP annual report.

All of our activity is supported and underpinned by our significant focus on community empowerment, development and capacity building.

4. Reducing offending and reoffending

In order to address the underlying causes of offending behaviours, research shows that a range of complex areas of needs should be assessed. Interventions should be provided to reduce the impact of crime on our citizens and communities; and to promote reintegration and positive citizenship.

The National Strategy for Community Justice (2016) provides a range of supporting evidence for reducing re-offending:

“The evidence on what works to reduce reoffending is clear; standalone interventions and access to services are unlikely to reduce reoffending on their own so mentoring should be seen as part of a holistic service where (people with convictions) are offered a range of services and interventions to meet their needs.”

Source: Scottish Government, What Works to Reduce Reoffending: A summary of evidence, 2011

Crime Rates

In common with most areas across Scotland, East Dunbartonshire has benefited from a reduction in overall levels of reported crime since 2006-07, a reduction of 46%². Nonetheless, in the same period an increase of 23% in the number of recorded incidents related to domestic abuse³.

East Dunbartonshire is regarded as a safe place to live with the level of crime being significantly lower than the Scottish average with 493 crimes and offences per 10,000 of the population in 2015/16 compared to the Scottish average of 1,090.

The rate of crime per 10,000 of the population in East Dunbartonshire was lower than the Scottish average in all categories shown in the table below.

Source: East Dunbartonshire Area Profile (Table 29)	Non sexual crimes of violence	Sexual crimes	Crimes of dishonesty	Fire-raising, vandalism, etc.	Other crimes	Motor vehicle offences	Misc. offences
Scotland	13	19	216	101	110	317	314
East Dunbartonshire	6	7	126	52	53	112	135

Although there has been a steady rise in the number of Community Payback Orders overall during the period 2014 - 2016, there has been a rise in unpaid work from 13,000 to 20,000 hours. This is an additional 7,000 hours of work being undertaken in the East Dunbartonshire area to benefit the community.

The Scottish Government Justice Analytical Service is predicting an increase in sexual offence convictions over the next three years due, in the main, to the societal responses to historical sexual abuse enquiries and awareness due to enhanced media attention. Their scenario prediction is as follows:

- Year 1 – 10% increase Year 2 – 10% increase Year 3 – 5% increase

ED CPP proposed improvement activity will include a review of trends and evidence, this information will allow community justice partners to identify areas for priority and agree how targeted interventions will be delivered.

The diagram below is contained within the National Strategy for Community Justice (2016) and provides the framework for improving assessment, service access and ultimately outcomes for those who are impacted by crime:

Our improvement activity in the future will contain actions that ensure that ED CPP community justice partners move towards enhanced assessment, monitoring, recording and reporting of an individual citizen's progress in relation to offending and re-offending.

Again, we expect this to impact at a resource level and we will work together to maximise the use of existing resources, identifying and reporting gaps and challenges to the Scottish Government.

5. East Dunbartonshire Community Justice Priorities and Activity

5.1 Improve Community Understanding and Participation

ED CPP is developing a refreshed approach to community engagement and participation during 2017-2018. Community justice improvement activity will be a key element within this developing ambitious new model of engagement.

The National Strategy for Community Justice (2016) defines the importance of communities within the new model:

“Community is at the heart of the new model for community justice. Whether challenging stigma, employing people with convictions, or participating in community justice planning – improving community justice outcomes will require the involvement and support of local people and businesses. It is vital that this includes victims of crime, people who have committed offences, families, and the community bodies that represent them”

East Dunbartonshire community justice partners have agreed the priority improvement activity noted below for 2017-2018. Annex B of the CJOIP provides detail of the priority actions and the monitoring indicators that we will use to ensure progress towards the new model for community justice is maintained:

National Outcome 1 (National Strategy Section 4)	Communities improve their understanding and participation in community justice
East Dunbartonshire CJ Priority 1	Improve community participation and understanding in community justice
East Dunbartonshire Improvement Activity	Develop and agree proposals to include community justice in ED CPP Community Engagement and Participation Model Scope the support communities need to engage meaningfully with the new model for community justice Develop the community justice evidence base Develop and agree local indicators to be utilised to monitor progress within the new community justice model Be mindful of the importance of language

5.2 Improve Strategic Planning and Delivery

ED CPP has in place a reporting and scrutiny process, as noted in Section 2 of this Plan. Community Justice crosses over all six priority areas and our programme of improvement activity will be included within these.

The National Strategy for Community Justice (2016) defines the critical importance of effective community justice partnership working as:

“Partnership working is crucial to improving community justice outcomes and community planning partnerships have an important role to play in facilitating this. In addition to the statutory partners, this requires the input of a diverse range of individuals and organisations covering a wide-range of interests, including housing, employability, and health and wellbeing...”

East Dunbartonshire Community Justice Partners have agreed the priority improvement activity noted below for 2017-2018. Annex B of the CJOIP provides detail of the priority actions and the monitoring indicators that we will use to ensure progress towards the new model for community justice is maintained:

National Outcome 2 (National Strategy Section 5)	Partners plan and deliver services in a more strategic and collaborative way
East Dunbartonshire CJ Priority 2	Improve strategic planning and delivery
East Dunbartonshire Improvement Activity	Agree ED CPP governance arrangements for community justice Integrate non-statutory partners into community justice planning structures and processes Implement a process of Care Inspectorate self-evaluation for community justice, How Good Is Our Leadership Implement and develop a Community Justice Outcome, Performance and Improvement framework to monitor and report progress Contribute to the development of the Community Justice Scotland Strategy for Innovation, Learning and Development Build effective links with children’s services planning Support and assist the development of strong multi-agency public protection arrangements (MAPPA)

5.3 Improve Access to Services

ED CPP community justice partner organisations/bodies already deliver a significant contribution to supporting individuals to access services and overcome barriers. A summary can be found at Annex A of this Plan.

The National Strategy for Community Justice (2016) explains why improving access to services is critical for improving local outcomes:

“Reoffending is a complex social issue and an individual’s likelihood of desistance can be significantly affected by structural factors such as timely access to housing, health and wellbeing, financial inclusion and employability. Furthermore, people who have committed offences may present complex and multiple needs, or require support in order to engage effectively with necessary services.

Victims of crime and families can also face a number of barriers to accessing services including stigma, a lack of information about services, transport challenges and a lack of available services. In some instances, these groups may be ineligible to access particular services due to restrictive criteria such as geographical boundaries or level of crisis”

East Dunbartonshire community justice partners have agreed the priority improvement activity noted below for 2017-2018. Annex B of the CJOIP provides detail of the priority actions and the monitoring indicators that we will use to ensure progress towards the new model for community justice is maintained:

National Outcome 3 (National Strategy Section 6)	People have better access to the services they require, including welfare, health and wellbeing, housing and employability
East Dunbartonshire CJ Priority 3	Improve access to services
East Dunbartonshire Activity	Engage with the children and families of people who have committed offences Support the development of effective mentoring and “through-the gate” models Facilitate the early assessment of individual housing need Improve access to financial and welfare advice services Every contact in the community justice pathway should be considered a health improvement opportunity Remove barriers to the recruitment of people with convictions

5.4 Improve Understanding and Use of Evidence-Based Interventions and Person-Centric Outcomes

ED CPP community justice partner organisations/bodies already deliver a significant contribution to supporting individuals through the use of evidence-based interventions. A summary can be found at Annex A of this Plan.

The National Strategy for Community Justice (2016) explains the effective use of evidence-based interventions is critical for improving local outcomes:

“Evidence shows that short-term prison sentences do not work in terms of rehabilitating people or reducing and preventing further offending. More than this, they disrupt families and communities as well as greatly affecting employment opportunities and stable housing – the very things that support desistance from offending.

That is not a good use of public resources and it is a waste of human potential. Instead, our focus should be on community-based interventions that evidence shows are effective at reducing and preventing further offending”

East Dunbartonshire community justice partners have agreed the priority improvement activity noted below for 2017-2018. Annex B of the CJOIP provides detail of the priority actions and the monitoring indicators that we will use to ensure progress towards the new model for community justice is maintained:

National Outcome 4 (National Strategy Section 7)	Effective interventions are delivered to prevent and reduce the risk of further offending
East Dunbartonshire CJ Priority 4	Improve understanding and use of evidence-based interventions
East Dunbartonshire Actions	Maximise opportunities for early intervention Maximise opportunities for the use of “other activities requirements” in Community Payback Orders Capitalise on third sector interventions Maximise opportunities for the use of diversion Develop indicator measurements for the delivery of interventions targeted at problem drug and alcohol use

5.5 Person-Centric Outcomes

East Dunbartonshire Community Planning partners deliver a wealth of diverse and wide ranging interventions which support the delivery of successful outcomes for individuals, many linked to the person centred outcomes detailed with the National Strategy for Community Justice. We recognise that our most vulnerable residents have a range of complex and co-dependent needs which require a more coordinated and joint response from agencies. Annex B of the CJOIP provides detail of the priority actions and the monitoring indicators that we will use to ensure progress towards the new model for community justice is maintained.

ED CPP is committed to ensuring that the improvement activity identified annually assists Community Justice Partners to move towards an improved model for monitoring outcomes at an individual level.

National Person – Centric Outcomes	Life chances are improved through needs, including health, financial inclusion, housing and safety being addressed People develop positive relationships and more opportunities to participate and contribute through education, employment and leisure activities Individual's resilience and capacity for change and self-management are enhanced
East Dunbartonshire CJ Priority 5	Individual has made progress against outcome
East Dunbartonshire Activity	Scope and review how community justice partners currently assess an individual's progress Assess requirements for the development of a system to collate and report user experience, service evaluation and distance travelled Produce report for Community Justice Scotland on requirements for future reporting on this outcome

6. Performance Management and Self-Evaluation

The Scottish Government Community Justice Outcomes and Performance Improvement Framework will be the basis of monitoring and reporting on progress towards the New Model for Community Justice. The accompanying Care Inspectorate *A guide to self-evaluation for community justice in Scotland*⁴ will assist ED CPP to underpin our commitment to continuous improvement and excellence in services.

A reporting structure and system to record and monitor CJOIP activity will be developed by ED Community Justice Partners.

A progress report will be prepared annually to allow partners to review and analyse performance against outcome targets. Local scrutiny of this performance report will highlight to partners any areas where delivery is not on track and encourage them to take any necessary remedial action.

Whilst local scrutiny will be the responsibility of Elected Members, national scrutiny will be supported by a new support body, Community Justice Scotland (CJS), established by the Scottish Government. The defined role of CJS is:

“It will work closely with statutory community justice partners, the third sector and a range of other parties to provide support and leadership for community justice. The body will bring enhanced opportunities for innovation through the establishment of a Hub for the promotion of Learning and Development. It will also provide assurance to Scottish Ministers and Local Government leaders on the delivery of improved outcomes for community justice and provide improvement support as required”

“It is for the statutory partners locally to identify the local needs and priorities to be addressed in the local plan. Any best practice initiatives developed by local partners may be shared via Community Justice Scotland’s proposed Hub for Innovation Learning & Development”

ED CPP will provide annual progress reports to Community Justice Scotland (CJS) and contribute to the national Community Justice Strategy for Innovation, Learning and Development. ED CPP will work together with CJS to ensure that a continuous improvement shift towards the new model for community justice in East Dunbartonshire maintains momentum.

7. Equalities

Equalities and Human Rights

Public sector organisations (and others organisations carrying out public functions on their behalf) are bound by the General Equality Duty created by the Equality Act 2010 and by the Human Rights Act 1998 which sets out rights under the European Convention on Human Rights.

To ensure that the most effective use of evidence-based interventions is made, and that opportunities for positive outcomes are achieved, an Equalities Impact Assessment (EqIA) has been carried out to delineate the areas and elements within the CJOIP that we need to have due regard to when planning and delivering programmes and services.

The improvement plan level EqIA will help inform the impact assessment of lower level elements in more detail, for example at age; disability; race levels, contributing to improvements, and the legal requirements on public sector organisations to assess the impacts of their policies.

Human rights considerations which often cross cut with considerations stemming from the Equality Act 2010 are highly relevant to all aspects of community justice, for example decisions made in the course of supervising offenders in the community every day, at every level of practice, impinge on human rights.

Partners will therefore work together and use their knowledge and skills to address these two important drivers for fairness and equality.

2.0 Community Justice Statutory Partners and Stakeholders

2.1 Police Scotland East Dunbartonshire Local Policing Area (Greater Glasgow Division)

East Dunbartonshire Local Policing Plan is informed through well-established community consultation structures including the rolling Police Scotland Your View Counts online survey¹. During 2017, following a period of consultation, an updated Local Policing Plan for East Dunbartonshire will be published by Police Scotland.

Police Scotland East Dunbartonshire are members of East Dunbartonshire Community Planning Management and Executive Boards, and associated Outcome Groups contributing extensively to our safer communities planning and delivery. Scrutiny reports can be found on East Dunbartonshire website: www.eastdunbarton.gov.uk/council/committees-councillors/

Key highlights of community justice transitions scoping work:

- Strong relationship established between Police Scotland East Dunbartonshire and local Health and Social Care Partnership Children's and Youth Services to progress positive outcomes for prevention and early intervention
- Revised model of working for Community Police School Link Officers in partnership with Education and Health and Social Care Partnership
- Co-production Agreement awareness activity with East Dunbartonshire Council jointly tackling anti-social behaviour, under age sales, bogus callers, littering and dog fouling

2.2 Crown Office and Procurator Fiscal Service (COPFS)

The Crown Office and Procurator Fiscal Service Business Plan and Strategy provide details of priorities and service delivery³. The findings of the ongoing Scottish Government review of COPFS is also expected to deliver improvement recommendations that East Dunbartonshire Community Justice Partners must take account of. COPFS video resource Our role in your community provides a comprehensive overview of role and responsibilities⁴

COPFS are not currently members of East Dunbartonshire Community Planning Partnership, however strong relationships are established with Police Scotland East Dunbartonshire providing a local strength we will capitalise on to improve partnership working. COPFS will be invited to join our local planning arrangements.

Key highlights of community justice transitions scoping work:

- COPFS contribution to Scottish Government national review
- Improving engagement between the COPFS and Health and Social Care Partnership Criminal Justice Service has been an area of development alongside other North Strathclyde Local Authorities including Inverclyde, Renfrewshire, East Renfrewshire, West Dunbartonshire and Argyll and Bute

An annual SPS Delivery Plan is produced detailing corporate priorities and actions for each year¹⁰. SPS staff at HMP Low Moss, situated in East Dunbartonshire, has built strong local relationships through engagement with public, private and voluntary sector organisations. Whilst East Dunbartonshire does not have high levels of people imprisoned, what SPS prison they are placed can vary across Scotland, however HMP Low Moss and HMP Barlinnie consistently care for around 60% of males numbers range from 30-45 at any one time. Numbers of female citizens imprisoned is extremely low ranging from 0-3 at any one time. The Health and Social Care Partnership Strategic Plan, Business Improvement Plan and Education and Children's Services Business Improvement Plan details national and local priorities actions and consultation pathways for the areas of: Criminal Justice, Youth Services, Children's Services, Mental Health, Addictions and Locality Groups (including GPs, acute clinicians, social workers, nurses, allied health professionals, pharmacists, carers, service users of health and social care services, and representatives of the local community).¹¹ Performance reporting and scrutiny is through both HSCP and Community Planning Partnership structures.

Criminal Justice

The Criminal Justice Service aim is to improve outcomes for people with convictions and contribute to community safety and public protection through targeting our resources to reduce the risk of re-offending and harm in local communities. Alcohol and Drugs

It is estimated that there are 3800 people with an alcohol problem and nearly 600 people with a drug problem living and working in East Dunbartonshire. We have a strong history of successful partnership working in positively tackling issues associated with the misuse of drugs and alcohol, strengthened through the East Dunbartonshire Alcohol and Drug Partnership and the a clear focus on the delivery of outcomes. The national strategies 'The Road to Recovery (2008)¹², and 'Changing Scotland's Relationship with Alcohol (2009)¹³, provide the vision for East Dunbartonshire Alcohol and Drug Partnership to take forward an innovative, inclusive and recovery agenda focused on person-centred treatment which is informed by a comprehensive drug and alcohol needs assessment. Access to appropriate treatment, harm reduction, and recovery are the Alcohol and Drug Partnership's most important priorities for problem drug and alcohol service users, utilising an asset based approach to sustain wellbeing. ED HSCP will publish a refreshed local strategy during 2017-2018.

Mental Health

The approximate number of individuals that suffer from a mental health problem in East Dunbartonshire is 1100 who are involved with secondary services¹⁴ and approximately 350 are involved with primary care mental health services. Many more have managed support through their GP.

The Scottish Government is expected to publish (early 2017) a refreshed mental health strategy, Mental Health in Scotland – A 10 year vision, that will set out 8 key priorities and a range of key commitments across the full spectrum of mental health improvement, services and recovery to ensure delivery of effective, quality care and treatment for people with a mental illness, their carers and families. A summary of the proposed strategy can be found here: <https://consult.scotland.gov.uk/mental-health-unit/mental-health-in-scotland-a-10-year-vision/>

The HSCP Strategy acknowledges that in poorer communities "inequalities such as housing, employment and educational attainment also exist within these communities. There is a well-evidenced relationship between income deprivation and poorer health outcomes. This is similar for those with mental health issues". There is also a well-evidenced relationship where these inequalities can lead to a pathway of offending.

Children and Youth Services

Children's Services deliver a range of statutory interventions designed to safeguard the most vulnerable children in our community. The service operates within national and local policy, as well as the legislative framework governing social work practice. As part of this function, Children's Services work closely with other services to ensure assessments are comprehensive, robust and clearly identify needs and risks. It fulfils a lead role in planning and co-ordinating services which manage risk. The circumstances of children and young people are monitored and reviewed to ensure care continues to meet identified need. Current research and evidenced based practice inform interventions designed to overcome issues of concern affecting wellbeing and safety.

Central aspects of Children and Families Social Work responsibilities include:

- Assessing and responding to the needs of vulnerable children in need of care and protection;
- Assessing and responding to the needs of vulnerable children with or affected by disability;

Children and Youth Services have a significant role within the community justice prevention and early intervention activity which extensively contributes to community justice outcomes. As partners of ED CPP, the implementation of the Care Leaver's Covenant actions will be central to HSCP community justice improvement activity.

Primary Care

Within East Dunbartonshire contracted services that deliver and develop primary care include, 17 general medical practices, 24 community pharmacies, 18 optometry practices and 26 dental practices. These services are at the front line of delivering, maintaining and improving population health. Primary care services have a key role in promoting positive health, maximising independence providing care and treatment, and supporting recovery. Together with health and social care, and third sector partners, primary care services enable individuals to live independent lives within their own community

The ED HSCP will continue work in partnership with all local Primary Care contractors, through established professional advisory arrangements and the GP forum. This will build on the commitment to supporting the primary/secondary care interface in order to achieve a sustainable model of care based on improving people's access to the right support at the right time, in the right environment. Primary care services will be supported to deliver services that respond better to wider social circumstances and, in particular, the needs of those who are most deprived

ED HSCP involvement within the context of community justice, and the access to services priority within, will be underpinned across the nine local outcomes identified in the ED HSCP Strategic Plan 2015-2018 (Section 3). 2.6 Local Authority

Housing (Other Local Authority Services are noted in 2.9)

Housing Services five year priorities can be found in the East Dunbartonshire Local Housing Strategy 2017-2022 (ED LHS)¹⁵. It sets out how the Council and its partners will address key imbalances in the local system and address housing need and demand in East Dunbartonshire, and provides the blueprint for directing investment and improving housing service.

The vast majority of dwellings (98.6%) are occupied in East Dunbartonshire: a small number of properties are vacant (1.1%) and are used as second homes (0.3%). This compares favourably with Scotland as a whole, where some 3.1% of dwellings are vacant (and a further 1.1% are used as second homes). Home ownership is the principal tenure in East Dunbartonshire: 81% of households own their property, almost 20 percentage points higher than the Scottish average of 62%. Just 12% of households rent from social landlords in East Dunbartonshire (8.5% from the council and 3.5% from other social landlords), well below the Scottish average of 24%. There are relatively high levels of social renting in Kirkintilloch East & Twechar, 16.6% of households renting from the council rented homes and 17.7% from other social landlords. Registered Social Landlords also have a key role to improve community justice outcomes. Housing Services will lead this and embed community justice outcome improvement within current structures for communication with local housing providers.

Participation Statement

To understand the current landscape and how community justice statutory partners currently contribute to safer communities, a range of strategic scoping work took place during 2016-2017. Supported by Scottish Government Transitions funding and led by Argyll, Bute and Dunbartonshires' Criminal Justice Partnership, this high level scoping work involved all named community justice organisations, third sector interface leads and some local and national third sector organisations.

We established that:

- The current strategic and operational functions/service delivery make a significant contribution to the new community justice model
- We need to strengthen our partnership working to improve outcomes
- We need to improve our collective understanding of the impact of crime on victims, people with convictions, families and communities
- We need to improve our collective understanding on what leads citizens into crime and develop our services to support pathways out of crime
- Prevention and early intervention are critical areas of focus if we are to secure longer-term improvements that lead to safer communities

A summary of activity is noted in the table below, all of which contributed to the four structural outcomes for community justice:

- Improve community participation and understanding
- Improve strategic planning
- Equal access to services
- Effective use of evidence-based interventions
