FOOD GROWING

East Dunbartonshire Council is preparing a local Food Growing Strategy as part of a commitment under the Community Empowerment (Scotland) Act 2015. The aim of the strategy is to give local people the opportunity to grow their own fruit, vegetables and flowers in allotments and other growing spaces such as community gardens and orchards.

A series of local engagement events are being held to share information on potential growing sites and discuss their suitability with local people interested in growing their own. Events are organised in conjunction with local community groups and community councils and will take place as follows:
