Comment Reasons:

Comment: The loss of a green space to local people and wildlife is regrettable. This a well used recreational space for young and old alike. The expense involved in decontaminating the proposed site is prohibitive and is hard to justify.

Why can't the existing Lenzie Academy site be used for the new school and the pupils decanted locally as has happened in other East Dunbartonshire school rebuilds?

Building on the Whitegates site is a costly enterprise and the loss of green space as a place to exercise and relax for local people is against the Council's "green" aspirations. The present Lenzie Academy site as a green space is too far from the people who use Whitegates Park on a regular basis.
